

LONGMEADOW ADULT CENTER ACTIVITIES

New in February

USING YOUR iPad

Tuesdays, February 7, 14, 21 1:30-2:30 pm

Santa brought Tom Johnson an iPad and he is ready to show us his discoveries. Bring your iPad or just come and observe to see if you want one. $9 for 3 classes.

SPANISH CLASS

Fridays beginning February 10 10:00-11:00 am

Maria Pritchard, a native of Equador, will be teaching a new Spanish class for beginners, people who need a refresher and travelers who need some words and phrases. Come by and make our 5th language class a success. Call 565-4150. No charge.

PERSPECTIVE DRAWING MADE EASY

Tuesdays, February 14, 21, & 28 1:00-2:00 pm

Getting some perspective can be a challenge for artists of any level of proficiency. David Spencer, artist and retired architect, will give three lessons on perspective drawing. The course will demonstrate simple drawing techniques to create realism with 3-dimensional sketches. Bring your sketch pad or plain paper, pencils/pens and a soft rubber eraser. No charge. Everyone welcome.

SIMPLE WORD PROCESSING

Wednesdays, February 22-March 28 10:00-11:00 am

Word Pad is a free program included in every edition of Windows. It allows you to write notes, letters, that book you've been meaning to write and other documents using the fundamentals of word processing. It is easier than Microsoft Word but fully compatible with it. Ed Edler will teach the basics of this simple method of word processing. $18 for 6 sessions.

LIVE SENIOR THEATER

Thursday, February 29 12:30 pm

Meet Steve Henderson who will be the creative director of our new Live Senior Theater. If you like theater, if you have ever been on the stage (yes, 6th grade counts) or if you are just curious, please come to meet him. We have big plans and need your help! This is something brand new for the Longmeadow Adult Center, supported by the Longmeadow Cultural Council. Tell us you are coming at 565-4150.
